LOGISTICS

GREAT OPPORTUNITIES, FANTASTIC SALARIES

Driven by the dynamism of a new world economy, the demand for skilled logistics professionals is spiralling everyday. As opportunities abound and the gap between infrastructure and skills widen in every region, the World Logistics Council advocates a global strategy solution where the thrust is on training modern-day logisticians to handle unique challenges with new found skills, innovation and perfection.

The international freight industry is worth $ 4 trillion every year and is projected to grow to 14 trillion by 2020. Technology alone cannot do the job, the crucial role of logistics professionals in dealing with myriad shipping, production, and distribution methods as they happen in 'real' time is the key to success for all companies across industries.

Flawless logistics planning ensures that all of the necessary resources, manpower, and structures are in place to complete the entire production and sales process. But as has been effectively demonstrated, the best plans can often fail due to a last minute client need or a production issue. Accidents do happen and planning often doesn't reflect updated information by the minute.

The global logistics industry is under extreme pressure to infuse greater security and efficiency in the flow of commerce from one end of the world to the other. In this trillion dollar industry, millions of jobs are being created and fantastic salaries being offered by logistics service providers. Logistics professionals are just in time to hone their skills and tap into this rapidly growing industry.

BLUE OCEAN & IPSCMI EXCLUSIVE TIE-UP

International Certifications Knocking At Your Door

The US-based International Purchasing and Supply Chain Management Institute (IPSCMI) is an elite training institution, offering a complete "portfolio" of training, education, and professional certification programs

The IPSCMI has entered into an exclusive tie-up with the Blue Ocean Management Training & Consultancy to offer logistics professionals a unique opportunity to upgrade their skills.

There are two premium certifications that they can avail of from IPSCMI –the CISCP or Certified International Supply Chain Professional (foundation course) and the CISCMI or the Certified International Supply Chain Manager (Advanced certification for Supply Chain Managers)

A TWO-STEP QUALIFICATION TO REACH THE TOP

For all aspiring logistics professionals, the IPSCMI “Certified International Supply Chain Professional” followed by the “Certified International Supply Chain Manager” is a two-step qualification specially designed to carve out top-notch careers. A prestigious qualification recognized all over the world, logistics professionals learn new skills and innovations necessary to deal with modern shipping, production and distribution methods.

In the current global market the demand is shifting from the mere presence of logistics professionals to heads of enterprises who can define and create new processes and ensure that they are consistent with new world procedures.

Certified professionals are paid higher salaries than non-certified professionals. Herein lies the importance of such international certifications: you learn to carve a niche for yourself in the professional world with the aid of the new knowledge you acquire, get paid far more and reach the peak of your career with perfect ease.

The CISCSP or Certified International Supply Chain Professional and the CISCMP or the Certified International Supply Chain Manager are complementary to each other.

Every logistics professional needs to undertake the CISCSP course first before moving onto CISCMP. The CISCSP is a compulsory foundation course paving the way for the senior and advanced level. Logistics and supply chain is all about strategy, planning and operations. Initially the focus is on operations and planning with the thrust being on planning and strategy at the advanced level.

With such a unique opportunity knocking at your doorstep, this is just the right time to earn an US certification in Supply Chain management. When you enrol for this program, you will join an elite brand of “Certified International Supply Chain Professionals” worldwide who have not only benefited from this program but also moved rapidly up the corporate ladder after gaining the certification.

DESIGNED FOR

Incredible opportunity for all logisticians

CISCP

The CISCP is designed for all aspiring logistics professionals. More importantly, it is a key qualification for people who are employed in different sectors from construction, automobile to retail and are engaged in different logistics functions.

The IPSCMI CISCP is a crucial certification legitimizing a professional's standing in the world of logistics. A CISCP is held in high esteem by employers, colleagues and peers. When you are certified by IPSCMI, you are well-poised to make a difference to your career as well as the organization that you are working for.

CISCM

CISCM is an advanced level certification program in Supply Chain Management. The pre-requisite for joining CISCM is getting certified as a CISCP first. The CISCM course is designed for logistics professionals who want to grow into a senior management level. The course will mostly focus on the strategic aspects of Logistics and Supply Chain Management. By enrolling into the CISCM program, students are able to improve themselves and contribute successfully to the organization that they are working in. Having the IPSCMI CISCM tag will help students showcase the training, skills and qualification they have acquired to present and future employers.

■ Program Benefits

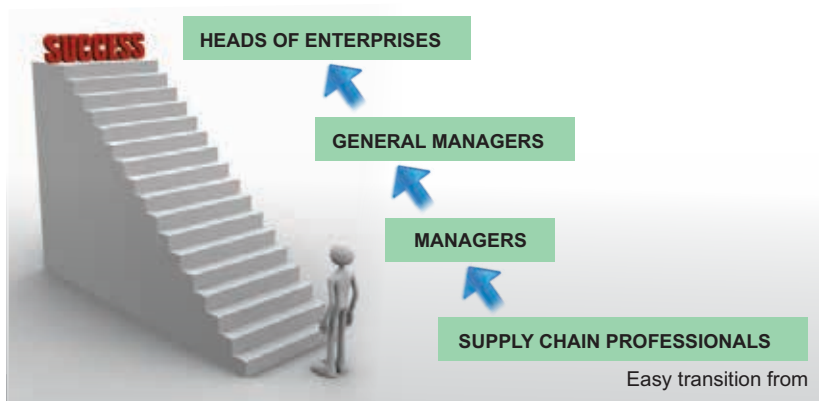

- Opportunity to get certified by the IPSCMI, the leading certification body from USA.
- International certifications that are recognized all over the world.
- New skills and knowledge to deal with complex supply chain scenarios.
- Sharpen strategy, planning skills.
- Increased pay packet, improved career prospects.

■ Why get Certified?

Research has shown that qualified Logistics and Supply Chain professionals are rare.

A survey by Purchasing Magazine revealed that those certified get 48% more salary than non certified professionals.
